PITTSBURG SCENE OF TURMOIL

Westinghouse Plant Is Besieged by Union Pickets

PITTSBURG, June 29.—Sheriff George W. Richards today called on the State for assistance in the Westinghouse strike, and Troop C of the State Constabulary under Captain L. G. Adams was ordered to entrain at Greensburg for East Pittsburgh. They should reach that place by 5 p. m.

Sheriff Richards personally visited East Pittsburgh after the outbreak this morning when men were prevented by pickets from entering the electric works and 200 union switch and signal men, who had returned to work a few hours earlier struck again.

Disorder broke out today among the striking Westinghouse employees in East Pittsburgh, pickets surrounding the entrances to the electric works and preventing persons from entering.

The presence of twenty armed guards from the plant had no effect on the excited crowds.

Deputy sheriffs failed to quiet the people and local police, reinforced by twenty special officers, could do nothing.

Sheriff G. W. Richards arranged to call on the State for help and when a report spread that the Greensburg troop of the State Constabulary was on its way to the town, excitement increased.

San Rafael Marriage Is Secret for Month

The elopement to San Rafael and marriage of Miss Annie Schuneman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Schuneman of Elmhurst, to Charles Enos of San Leandro, has just become known to the friends of the couple after being kept a secret for a month.

Deciding to dispense with a formal wedding and thereby to avoid the attentions of friends, Miss Schuneman and Enos went on the afternoon of June 2 to San Rafael, where they took out a marriage license. None of their friends was aware of the elopement until this morning, when the secret was out.

"We're married," was the bride's salutation to her parents when the couple returned home from the wedding.

Miss Schuneman has many friends in this district, where she is popular among the younger set. Enos is a young business man of San Leandro.

"We didn't want to make any fuss over the wedding," said Mrs. Enos, "and so we went off and were quietly married. That's all there is to it."

RICHMOND, June 29.—George Conier, employed as a mixer at the Giant Powder Company's plant at Giant, while at work in the nitro-glycerine department, got his right leg caught in the belting this afternoon at 1 o'clock and the limb was torn practically off. With the leg hanging by a thread of flesh he was lifted into a buggy and driven nine miles over today in an explosion which was caused when an accumulation of gas was ignited by a match struck by a careless worker. Reports from the hospital where the injured man was taken, was that all would recover.

ROYAL MURDERS MAY CAUSE PERSECUTION OF SERB SUBJECTS

Assassination of Archduke and Duchess Believed to Have Been Plot Fomented by Slavic Leaders in Belgrade

SERAVEYO, June 29.—A bomb thrown by a youth standing on the corner of the main street of the Bosnian capital was the signal here this morning for a serious anti-Serbian outbreak, which the troops found considerable difficulty in quelling.

The only damage done by the bomb was a slight injury to a passing Mussulman, but the rougher element seized on the incident as an excuse to start a demonstration.

They were joined by a number of Croatian students and the crowd passed along the streets stoning the windows of Serbian shops, clubs and schools and houses and looting the interiors.

The manifestants paraded the streets with a portrait of the emperor, Francis Joseph, at their head. They sang the Austrian national anthem and attacked everything Serbian until they were confronted by overwhelming troops.

PROCLAIM MARTIAL LAW.

Martial law was proclaimed today, both in the city and in the district of Seraveyo, in consequence of the assassination yesterday of Archduke Franz Ferdinand and the Duchess of Hohenberg.

Death masks of the Archduke and the Duchess were taken today and the bodies placed on a catafalque in the chapel of the palace, surrounded by a magnificent display of wreaths and other floral emblems from all parts of the country.

According to the semi-official report of the tragedy, when Gavril Princip, the young assassin, fired the fatal shots, Field Marshal Oskar Potiorek, Governor of Bosnia, was riding in the car. Count Francis Von Harrach was standing on the footboard of the car, acting as a shield to the occupants, of whom he constituted himself the special body guard after the bomb had been thrown a short time before by Nedeljko Gabrinovic.

The Archduke was joking with the Count about his precautions when the reports of several shots rang out. The aim of the assassin was so true that each of the bullets inflicted a mortal wound.

NO SOUND FROM VICTIMS.

For an instant after the attack, Field Marshal Potiorek thought the Archduke and the Duchess, seated opposite him had again escaped. Neither the Archduke nor the Duchess uttered a sound, but a few moments afterward it was seen they had been hit.

Lieutenant-Colonel Erik Merizzi, wounded by the bomb in the first attack, was today pronounced out of danger, while the injury of Count Von Boos-Waldeck is said to be insignificant.

The Croatian students here today made several attempts to punish the Serbs, but the troops were called in and maintained order.

Gabrinovic, it was learned today, had been expelled from Seraveyo two years ago, but had been recently permitted to return through the intervention of a Socialist member of the Bosnian Diet.

Some Serbian students here, when they heard the news of the assassination shouted: "Thank God, we need not do it ourselves." They were arrested as accomplices of the assassins.

the present time and implanted him even if he insisted on going there himself at least to leave the Duchess at home.

When the Duchess of Hohenberg was informed, however, of the dangerous nature of the journey the Archduke was about to take, she said her place was at her husband's side.

When the Archduke and the Duchess arrived at Sarajevo on Saturday some signs of hostility were shown by the Serbs, but the population of the city before the couple passed through the city the authorities succeeded in getting rid of a great display of Serbian flags which the people had hoisted instead of flying the Austrian colors.

DEPUTIES ARE INCENDIARY.

Feeling, however, was carried to the extreme when at a session of the Bosnian Diet, called to express sorrow at the death of the archduke, light suits in contrast to the somber black of their fellow deputies.

The plans of the assassins contemplated, it is said, the blowing up of the royal train when the Archduke and his wife were leaving Sarajevo in case Gavrilo Princip failed.

It was learned that several bombs were found along the Sarajevo railroad over which the Archduke and his wife would have traveled.

cal upheaval, as is said to have little real foundation, as the old Emperor has kept the reins of government in his own hands, delegating as little power as possible to his late nephew.

Much attention has been paid to the political situation. It was widely expected that an archduke would be the chief supporter of the powerful Christian Socialist or anti-Semitic party in Austria.

It was pointed out in such political circles that if the Emperor is permitted to reign only a few years more, Austria may continue as usual and Archduke Francis Ferdinand's death will have little lasting material effect on the future of the empire.

It was known the Archduke was not in sympathy with the Magyar regime in Hungary, no was he as pro-German as some of the German nationalist factions desired him to be.

The late Archduke, it is believed, really favored a form of three-fold system for the future government of the Austro-Hungarian Empire to take the place of the present dual regime of Germans in Austria and Magyars in Hungary.

It is said he desired to see the Slav population in the two halves of the empire, as well as the Jewish population of the inhabitants, given some definite share in the government of the country. Indeed, it is believed a major part of his plan was to give to certain leaders of the Slav peoples a few months ago.

His own remarks at these possibilities and what it is understood prove a serious and dominant power and to the anti-Semites.

As far as the new, self-presumptive is concerned, his political opinions may almost be said to be non-existent. In foreign policy, it is to be quite certain that the Archduke Charles Francis Joseph, who has a strong supporter in Germany and in the Triple Alliance.

The influence of his uncle, the King of Bavaria and Saxony and the future King of Württemberg, will, it is argued, certainly keep him attached to the German empire.

It is generally thought that if the young Archduke is even to be crowned, he is likely to prove a second Emperor Francis Joseph and to lead his future rule affairs with the same care as during the recent reign.

EDUCATION IS CAREFUL.

The new Emperor-elect is known to be a devout Catholic, but like the old Emperor, he does not make his religion an affair of politics. Archduke Charles Francis Joseph, although he has no experience in statecraft, is quite popular in his own right and is expected to be one day expected to occupy the new Emperor's position with a sound and careful education. After his preliminary schooling, he will be sent to a classical school conducted by the Benedictine monks, the most liberal Catholic seminary in Austria, where the young Archduke mingled freely with the sons of professional and businessmen who form the best and most solid class in the Vienna community.

In addition to his school education, the Archduke was thoroughly coached by private tutors at home and his education in languages was advanced.

The Archduke's wife, Princess Zita, also is an excellent linguist. Since her marriage she has learned the Hungarian language at the special wish of the Emperor, who presented her with the Hungarian library of the late Empress Elizabeth.

VIENNA, Austria, June 28.—From all parts of the dual monarchy, as well as from most foreign countries, messages poured in today testifying to the profound and painful impression produced throughout the world by the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand.

The Duke of Teck, accompanied by a small military mission, including a chaplain of the British army, will represent King George at the funeral of Archduke Francis Ferdinand.

When the old Emperor arrived at a suburban station on Ichni at eleven o'clock this morning he was greeted with cheers by large crowds. His Majesty landed in an open carriage to Schenbrunn Castle, accompanied by a full staff of brilliantly uniformed officers. He appeared to be in better health. He was received at the palace by Archduke Charles Francis Joseph, new heir apparent to the throne.

REGRETS IN PRESS.

Although today was a holiday, the newspapers appeared and devoted their columns exclusively to yesterday's tragic event. All of them dwelt on the devotion to duty of the late Archduke and to the important services he rendered to the empire.

General expression was given by the press to the conclusion that the people of the dual monarchy would rally around the person of the aged monarch.

It is argued that should a youthful and inexperienced ruler like the Archduke Karl Francis Joseph, son of the late Archduke Otto, suddenly be called upon to take the reins of government, a period of anxiety might supervene.

EMPEROR STILL POWERFUL.

The young Archduke and his wife, who was Princess Zita of Parma, are both extremely popular among all classes of society and everybody from the Emperor down is said to be anxious to do his utmost to help them in every way to rise to the responsible position so suddenly thrust on them.

The suggestion put forward in some quarters that Archduke Francis Ferdinand's death is likely to cause a political upheaval, as is said to have little real foundation, as the old Emperor has kept the reins of government in his own hands, delegating as little power as possible to his late nephew.

ARCHDUKE REPUTED MAN OF ACTION

Unsympathetic and Cold. He Originated Empire's Aggressive Diplomacy.

In Austria, Archduke Francis Ferdinand was not popular as an individual; and he was hated in Hungary.

The members of Vienna tell a story which illustrates, they claim, the unsympathetic side of his character. When his father, the present Emperor's brother, Archduke Karl, died, his three sons stood beside the bier. The youngest, three himself on his father's body, in a passion of grief, the second, Otto, the first-born, rushed to his father's side and, in a gesture of affection, he kissed him.

RENOUNCED RIGHT OF SONS TO RULE

Archduke on Throne Would Have Been Emperor Without Empress.

Had the Archduke Francis Ferdinand lived until the death of the old Emperor Francis Joseph he would have succeeded to the throne of Austria-Hungary, yet his wife would have been recognized only as Queen of Hungary, not as Empress of Austria.

By solemn oath, after the archduke's marriage to the Bohemian Countess Sophie Chotek, he swore in the presence of the Emperor Francis Joseph, all the princes of the house of Hapsburg, the cardinals of Vienna, and many other high dignitaries in both the Austrian and Hungarian governments, that he would never attempt to raise his wife to the position of empress nor to establish rights of succession to the throne for any child of his.

It was pointed out in such political circles that if the Emperor is permitted to reign only a few years more, Austria may continue as usual and Archduke Francis Ferdinand's death will have little lasting material effect on the future of the empire.

Archduke Charles Francis Joseph, although he has no experience in statecraft, is quite popular in his own right and is expected to be one day expected to occupy the new Emperor's position with a sound and careful education. After his preliminary schooling, he will be sent to a classical school conducted by the Benedictine monks, the most liberal Catholic seminary in Austria, where the young Archduke mingled freely with the sons of professional and businessmen who form the best and most solid class in the Vienna community.

In addition to his school education, the Archduke was thoroughly coached by private tutors at home and his education in languages was advanced.

The Archduke's wife, Princess Zita, also is an excellent linguist. Since her marriage she has learned the Hungarian language at the special wish of the Emperor, who presented her with the Hungarian library of the late Empress Elizabeth.

THE WHOLE WORLD MOURNS.

VIENNA, Austria, June 28.—From all parts of the dual monarchy, as well as from most foreign countries, messages poured in today testifying to the profound and painful impression produced throughout the world by the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand.

The Duke of Teck, accompanied by a small military mission, including a chaplain of the British army, will represent King George at the funeral of Archduke Francis Ferdinand.

When the old Emperor arrived at a suburban station on Ichni at eleven o'clock this morning he was greeted with cheers by large crowds. His Majesty landed in an open carriage to Schenbrunn Castle, accompanied by a full staff of brilliantly uniformed officers. He appeared to be in better health. He was received at the palace by Archduke Charles Francis Joseph, new heir apparent to the throne.

REGRETS IN PRESS.

Although today was a holiday, the newspapers appeared and devoted their columns exclusively to yesterday's tragic event. All of them dwelt on the devotion to duty of the late Archduke and to the important services he rendered to the empire.

General expression was given by the press to the conclusion that the people of the dual monarchy would rally around the person of the aged monarch.

It is argued that should a youthful and inexperienced ruler like the Archduke Karl Francis Joseph, son of the late Archduke Otto, suddenly be called upon to take the reins of government, a period of anxiety might supervene.

EMPEROR STILL POWERFUL.

The young Archduke and his wife, who was Princess Zita of Parma, are both extremely popular among all classes of society and everybody from the Emperor down is said to be anxious to do his utmost to help them in every way to rise to the responsible position so suddenly thrust on them.

The suggestion put forward in some quarters that Archduke Francis Ferdinand's death is likely to cause a political upheaval, as is said to have little real foundation, as the old Emperor has kept the reins of government in his own hands, delegating as little power as possible to his late nephew.

Much attention has been paid to the political situation. It was widely expected that an archduke would be the chief supporter of the powerful Christian Socialist or anti-Semitic party in Austria.

It was pointed out in such political circles that if the Emperor is permitted to reign only a few years more, Austria may continue as usual and Archduke Francis Ferdinand's death will have little lasting material effect on the future of the empire.

It was known the Archduke was not in sympathy with the Magyar regime in Hungary, no was he as pro-German as some of the German nationalist factions desired him to be.

The late Archduke, it is believed, really favored a form of three-fold system for the future government of the Austro-Hungarian Empire to take the place of the present dual regime of Germans in Austria and Magyars in Hungary.

It is said he desired to see the Slav population in the two halves of the empire, as well as the Jewish population of the inhabitants, given some definite share in the government of the country. Indeed, it is believed a major part of his plan was to give to certain leaders of the Slav peoples a few months ago.

His own remarks at these possibilities and what it is understood prove a serious and dominant power and to the anti-Semites.

As far as the new, self-presumptive is concerned, his political opinions may almost be said to be non-existent. In foreign policy, it is to be quite certain that the Archduke Charles Francis Joseph, who has a strong supporter in Germany and in the Triple Alliance.

The influence of his uncle, the King of Bavaria and Saxony and the future King of Württemberg, will, it is argued, certainly keep him attached to the German empire.

It is generally thought that if the young Archduke is even to be crowned, he is likely to prove a second Emperor Francis Joseph and to lead his future rule affairs with the same care as during the recent reign.

EDUCATION IS CAREFUL.

The new Emperor-elect is known to be a devout Catholic, but like the old Emperor, he does not make his religion an affair of politics. Archduke Charles Francis Joseph, although he has no experience in statecraft, is quite popular in his own right and is expected to be one day expected to occupy the new Emperor's position with a sound and careful education. After his preliminary schooling, he will be sent to a classical school conducted by the Benedictine monks, the most liberal Catholic seminary in Austria, where the young Archduke mingled freely with the sons of professional and businessmen who form the best and most solid class in the Vienna community.

In addition to his school education, the Archduke was thoroughly coached by private tutors at home and his education in languages was advanced.

OLD MILL PRODUCES SUIT FOR PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Representative Byrnes of South Carolina went to the White House today with two white duck suits, which he presented to President Wilson and Secretary Tumulty.

Had the Archduke Francis Ferdinand lived until the death of the old Emperor Francis Joseph he would have succeeded to the throne of Austria-Hungary, yet his wife would have been recognized only as Queen of Hungary, not as Empress of Austria.

By solemn oath, after the archduke's marriage to the Bohemian Countess Sophie Chotek, he swore in the presence of the Emperor Francis Joseph, all the princes of the house of Hapsburg, the cardinals of Vienna, and many other high dignitaries in both the Austrian and Hungarian governments, that he would never attempt to raise his wife to the position of empress nor to establish rights of succession to the throne for any child of his.

It was pointed out in such political circles that if the Emperor is permitted to reign only a few years more, Austria may continue as usual and Archduke Francis Ferdinand's death will have little lasting material effect on the future of the empire.

VESSEL IS MENAGED IN FOG

Prompt Action of Captain Saves 500 Lives on President

Lookout's Call Warns of Peril; "Dead Belt" Escaped

Reversing his engines, while the crash heard in the fog Captain George Zeh, of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's liner President, early this morning saved 500 passengers from death by his presence of mind. The vessel was negotiating a passage in the fog which overhung the bay and deadened the warning siren. The lookout first heard the whistle, and warned the captain, who at once reversed the engine.

The sudden reversal of the engines in stopping the ship awakened the sleeping passengers, and instantly there was general excitement.

The passengers who were on deck could plainly see the swirl of the breakers through the dense fog as the steamer was backed off into safety.

The President, bound from Puget Sound, to the bay, was proceeding with great caution in a thick fog, when it was discovered that the vessel was dangerously near the shore and the breakers ahead were sighted.

Although the President was dangerously near destruction, the prompt action and skill of Captain Zeh prevented the vessel from even scraping the bottom and there was not the slightest injury to the ship, which sailed for Los Angeles this afternoon.

As mariners well know, there is a fault zone in foggy weather off Point Reyes, where it is impossible to hear the fog whistles ashore.

To this is attributed the wreck of the bark Calitz, which struck there and was lost a year ago.

Captain Hibberd, superintendent of the Pacific Steamship Company well knows of the faulty conditions, because he was right behind the Calitz in another sailing vessel when the former was wrecked.

Passengers on the steamer joined with Captain Hibberd in praising Captain Zeh for his skill and seamanship in saving the big liner and all on board from what seemed certain destruction.

Proposed Change of Road's Name in Court

Application of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway for permission to change the corporation name to the California Railway Company is set for hearing today in the Superior Court. The petition sets forth as a reason for the change that the present name is cumbersome and that the proposed designations of the two cities gives the impression that the business of the corporation is confined exclusively to the municipalities whereas the plans of the company call for an extension into other counties. The petition is signed by five of the directors, W. A. Bissell, F. W. Frost, W. J. Brobeck, F. A. Whipple and J. F. Carlston.

MILLER UP FOR CORONER REFORM IS HIS SLOGAN

GRANT D. MILLER, WHO HAS ANNOUNCED HIS CANDIDACY FOR THE OFFICE OF CORONER OF ALAMEDA COUNTY.

Grant D. Miller, who announces his candidacy for the office of coroner of Alameda county, enjoys the distinction of being the namesake of the eighteenth president of the United States, Ulysses S. Grant.

Around Miller's name is clung one of the interesting incidents in the history of our country. He was born during the turbulent times of '63 when the memory of Antietam and Vicksburg was still fresh in the minds of those who wore the Blue and the Gray. His father, David R. Miller, a staunch Republican and his mother an equally staunch Democrat, were unable to reach a mutual understanding as to an appropriate name for their young son. After a prolonged disagreement, it was finally decided to postpone the christening of the boy indefinitely.

On the eve of the historic battle of Appomattox in '65, Miller and his wife decided that the child should be named after the victorious general. Much to the regret of the mother, who had long cherished the desire to know her son by the name of Robert E. Lee and to the joy of the father, the boy was given the name of Grant—by which the citizens of Alameda county know him today.

Miller received his early education in Alameda county where he divided his time and efforts between pursuing his studies and working in the mines with his father. He later attended the San Francisco Commercial College, from which he graduated to embark upon a commercial career in the employ of the Wells Fargo Company.

Having a natural inclination, however, for the mining industry, he soon returned to Mariposa county. Being of a persevering and patient nature and willing to wait for the results of his hard labor, he was soon rewarded by being appointed secretary of the Compromise Mining Company, which position he creditably occupied for a period of two years.

IN OAKLAND BUSINESS.

After an eventful trip to Alaska during the famous Klondike strike, Miller came to Oakland to engage in the undertaking business.

He is a member of the Masonic Order, No. 115, Sons, Odd Fellows, and Moose, and has, for fourteen years, served in the capacity of keeper of records and Seals of the Amazon Lodge of Knights of Pythias. He was one of the promoters and first president of the Twenty-third Avenue Improvement Club.

"I firmly believe," Miller said, "that tender and reverent care should be given the bodies of women and children by women. I propose to institute this important reform in the coroner's office. I also advocate that the coroner should work in co-operation with the state and local boards of health in order to secure remedial legislation to prevent accidents and to check contagious diseases."

"I believe that the coroner should work too, with charitable and religious organizations, to bring them closely in touch with conditions of misfortune in the community."

Bank's Vice-President Says Family Lost Coin

CHICAGO, June 28.—Charles E. Munday, vice-president of the La Salle Street Trust and Savings Bank, which is in the hands of a receiver, declared today members of his family had more than $1,000,000 on deposit when the bank closed. He said it was absurd for anyone to think he had tried to wreck the institution when his own family's fortune was involved.

Munday said the bank was solvent when it closed.

Official announcement of the bank's condition as reported by Daniel W. Harkin, examiner to the state auditor was made today. Notes due the bank to the aggregate of $1,745,054 were branded as "degenerate and of no value." Notes for $1,629,567 were called "slow and doubtful," while the "good" notes aggregate only $781,327. These items alone indicated a failure for approximately $2,500,000.

Insane Chinese Uses Hatchet on Slumberer

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Attacked with a hatchet as he slept early this morning, Leong Tong Yee was saved from death by a number of Chinamen who ran to his assistance in a rooming house at 569 Clay street. Chung Lee, his assailant, is in the detention hospital on a suspicion of insanity and Leong is in the Central Emergency hospital recovering from a number of severe scalp wounds. Chung explains the attack by saying that he had been pursued by 200 Chinamen during the last two months.

Ocean Shore Road May Issue Drafts

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—The State Railroad Commission has rendered a decision authorizing the Ocean Shore Railroad Company to issue notes and drafts aggregating $22,000 for the purchase of freight cars, second class passenger coaches and two locomotives, as part of the necessary equipment. The Commission said that it does not expect that these obligations will be paid as they become due from earnings, but from the proceeds of an assessment upon the stockholders. Out of a total of $119,000, which the company needed for expenditures, $100,000 has already been expended.

FIREMEN UPHELD

One Day Off in Five Granted Over the Protests of Turner.

The fight for one day off in five for men on duty 24 hours a day in the fire department was won in the city council today, in the face of opposition from Fire Chief N. A. Ball and Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. C. Turner.

By the passage of the ordinance providing for the change introduced by Commissioner of Streets W. J. Baucua. The final passage of the ordinance, by a vote that would have been unanimous but for the opposition of Turner, marks the first time since the commission form of government has been in force in Oakland that a commissioner has been arbitrarily overruled in his own department.

One action of the council, while it is considered that it will result in some lack of discipline in the fire department due to the ill-will of the men toward the fire chief and the commissioner, could have been avoided only with difficulty, as the men have been demanding a concession in this matter for many months.

partment, and it was only when forced to do so to obtain their wishes that they fell back upon the commissioner of another department as their champion. The action of the council was bitterly resented by Turner and Ball.

WILL INCREASE SALARIES.

The change will occasion an increase in the salary roll for the fire department of $12,500 a year, due to the necessity of appointing 11 men to substitute for men on duty 24 hours a day.

The ordinance passed to print today calls for 10 firemen and one engineer.

"How can we set aside the recommendations of the commissioner and head of the department?" said Mayor Mott when the matter came up for discussion today.

"That's easy," returned Commissioner Turner sarcastically, having in memory the fact that the ordinance had been given its first passage last week in the face of his opposition.

"It is only right and just that these men should have this schedule of days off allowed them," declared Deputy District Attorney W. B. Smith, who appeared for the firemen who petitioned for the change, the petition having been signed by every member of the department with the exception of the chief. "They are slaves, tied to these fire houses for 24 hours a day every day, with the exception of one in seven. That is not a fair schedule. San Francisco gave her men the best schedule, and the fire chief fought for his men, instead of against them."

"Well, Oakland is the third highest paid department in the world," suggested Mayor Mott. "That is something."

"Yes, and the fire losses for the past few years have been actually less than the cost of maintaining the department," interposed Turner.

BACCUS CALLS VOTE.

Despite Turner's objections, a vote was called for by Baccus and the ordinance providing for the change, was given final passage, while the auxiliary ordinance creating the new positions and appropriating the necessary $12,500 was passed to print.

AUGUST 3 IS SET AS PLEASANTON ELECTION DAY

Supervisors Adopt Original Territory of Water District Petition

August 3 was fixed this morning by the Board of Supervisors as the date of the Pleasanton water district election, which was finally completed after a series of protests, disputes and objections by attorneys and property holders. The original 13,000 acres named in the original petition are included in the district.

The protests, which were bitterly fought, came from the Southern Pacific Company, the Spring Valley Water Company and large property holders. Last week the supervisors agreed to exclude this territory, but reversed their decision at committee meeting, and today voted the district as originally petitioned for.

A suit is threatened by the Spring Valley Company, which holds that it is being taxed for a water district it is being forced to complete against itself. Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst also was a protestant, alleging that her land would not be taxed.

Cedric Petersen, son of Chief of Police W. J. Petersen of Oakland, was the attorney representing petitioners.

The first petition was withdrawn on account of irregularities in boundaries. Today's action was taken without comment by the supervisors.

FRANCHISE IS SOLD.

The franchise for an extension of the San Lorenzo line, asked by the people of the district, was sold today to the ways for the sum of $5. A $2000 bond was filed by the railway to insure completion of the work. The franchise is for a twelve block stretch, and will do away with the San Lorenzo loop, rendering better service.

URGES THAT RULE IN MEXICO

Man Like Porfirio Diaz Necessary to Country, Says Waterman.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Mexico will not be saved by such men as Villa and Zapata, is the assertion of Professor T. T. Waterman of the University of California, who lectured yesterday afternoon at the Affiliated College on "The Racial Background of the Mexican Troubles."

Waterman believes that Mexico needs an iron hand to rule. Until such a man as Diaz or an outside strong nation steps in there will be continual revolution, he asserts.

"It seems to be fairly obvious," said Professor Waterman, "that certain economic conditions are or once were at the bottom of the present state of affairs."

One part of the United States would remedy these matters is by no means certain. We have plenty of economic problems at home, and our solutions are not always happy ones.

"If intervention were projected merely to settle Mexico's economic problems I should recommend A-B-C diplomacy, protracted indefinitely."

"I feel certain that the people would be exploited as thoroughly under any regime now."

Republican Party Coming Into Its Own Once More

With the approach of the primary elections in August—the first real election of its kind since the adoption of the law—registration increases and the magnificent showing made by the Republican party of California is an unmistakable indication of its return to power. From the time the books were opened, to date, men and women of the Golden State have shown an eagerness to ally themselves with the purified and rejuvenated organization that has controlled the destinies of this commonwealth and nation for so many years, and now the figures are so overwhelming in their magnitude as to afford a basis for the specific prediction that in the general election in November next the candidates of the great political aggregation that has played such a conspicuous part in the upbuilding of the country will be elected and victory may be expected all along the line. The results of the registration thus far are highly gratifying, as the appended statement discloses:

This statement is not complete as to the entire State, all the returns not being available today, but are the figures from the nine leading congressional districts of California, including San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles, Sacramento and other populous centers. The figures are: Republicans, 343,942; Democrats, 180,958; Progressives, 128,213. While this statement is incomplete as stated, the total registration of the State will run about in the same proportion and the voters registered by the Republican party will approximate more than 400,000 with the list still growing.

Confident of the success that will follow, many distinguished members of the Republican party have listened to the call of their friends in various parts of the commonwealth and will make the race for Governor. The list includes John D. Fredericks of Los Angeles, Francis V. Kessling of San Francisco, Charles M. Belshaw of Antioch, William C. Ralston of San Francisco and Edwin Meserve of Los Angeles, all good men, highly endowed, honest and capable, all competent to act as executive of this great State. And for every other office will be found candidates of equal ability meriting the confidence of the people.

For United States Senator, Hon. Joseph R. Knowland, who for many years has served this district and the State as a member of the national House of Representatives, a native son, and Hon. Samuel M. Shorridge of San Francisco are competing. Both these men are pre-eminent in their many good qualities, strong, alert, conscientious and able, and either will be a credit to the State in the nation's highest law-making bodies.

Naturally THE TRIBUNE'S preference has been for Mr. Knowland. He is a resident of this city, his interests of a personal nature are here and he has been identified with its progress ever since the time he left school and assumed the activities of business and political life.

But in his career as a legislator Mr. Knowland has shown himself to be a citizen of the State of California, alive to the welfare of all sections. He has been loyal, not only to his own county, but to all. He has stood shoulder to shoulder with San Francisco in achieving results, making for her commercial greatness through legislation aiding her harbor facilities, vigorously assisting in getting the fair for her, and in numerous other ways. He was side by side with Los Angeles in obtaining national help for the projects that have been a commanding factor in the increasing of her ocean commerce and her interstate trade; he labored for the improvements of the harbor of San Pedro and gave as loyal service as any member of the California delegation in Congress. He has toiled incessantly for Mare Island and Vallejo and has worked energetically for the improvement of the inland waterways to Stockton and Sacramento. Humboldt county owes him a debt of gratitude for his assistance in securing appropriations for the betterment of its ports, and in short, all California has profited by his work in its behalf. And in all these efforts Mr. Knowland was successful.

The many years of service in the lower house have given Mr. Knowland a training and a qualification that no other man asking for the votes of the people possesses, and he stands before his State as its commanding figure.

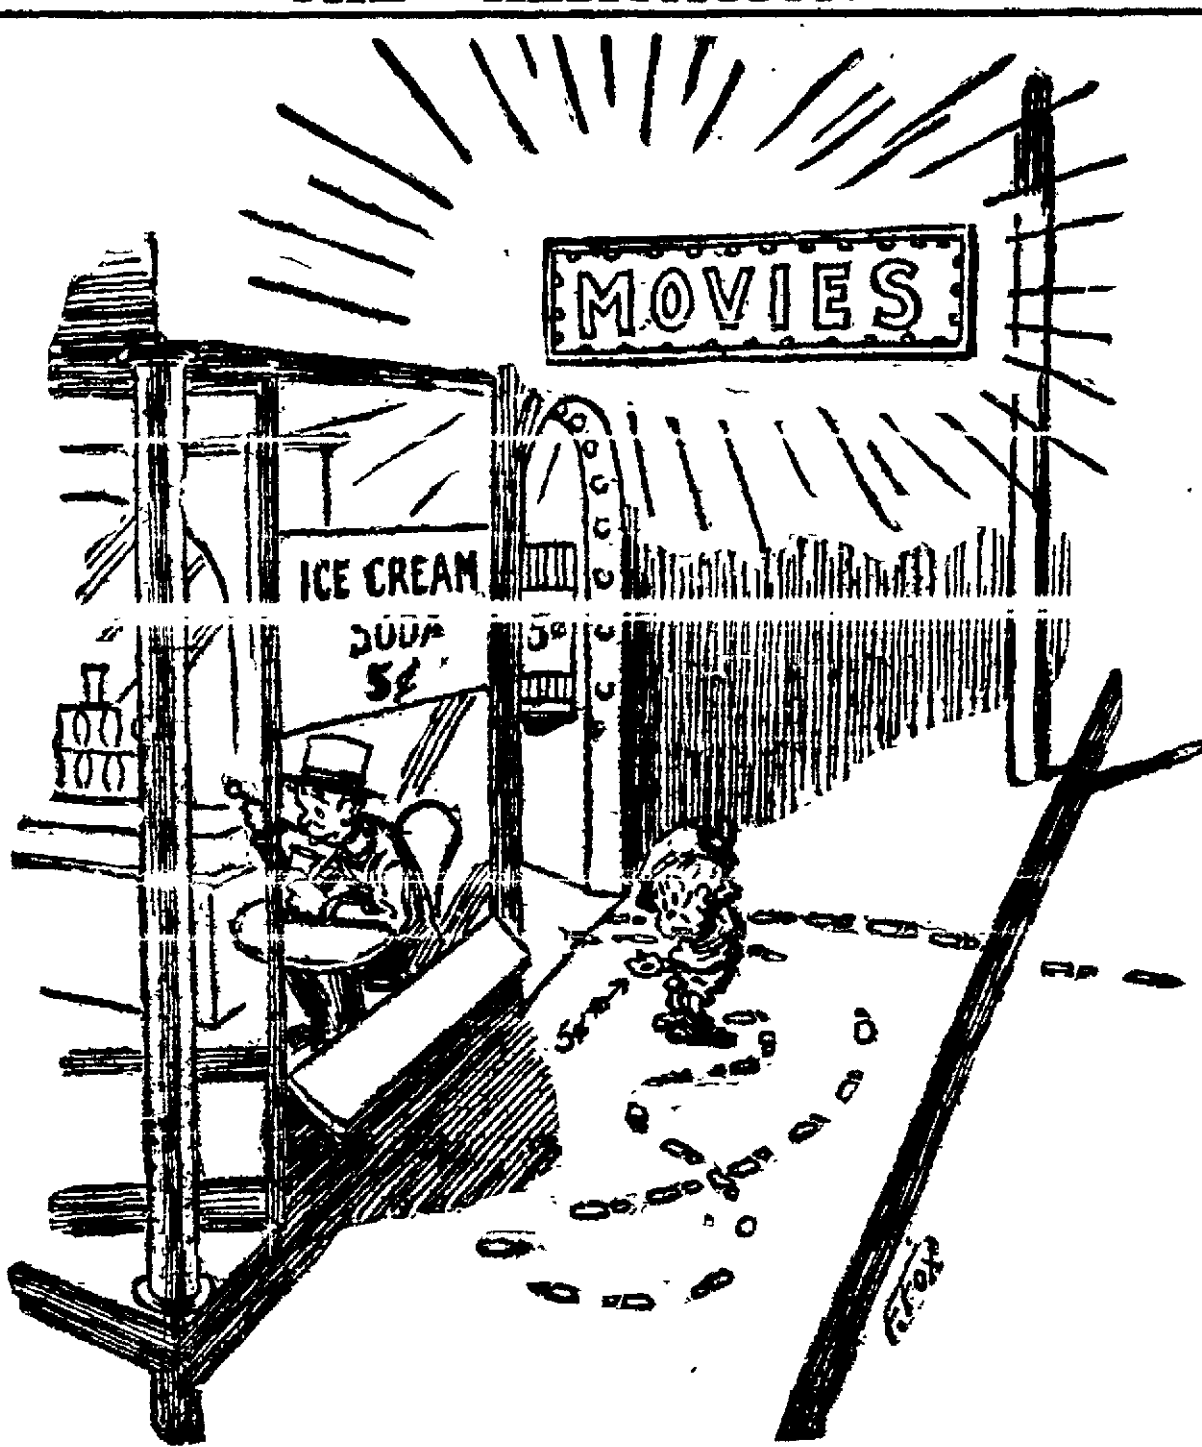

That California is not ungrateful THE TRIBUNE sincerely believes. That Mr. Knowland will be the nominee of the Republican party and will be elected it also believes. But while he has thousands of friends all over the State who are declaring in his favor daily and hourly, NO MAN, AND ESPECIALLY DOES THIS APPLY TO OAKLAND AND ALAMEDA COUNTY, HAS THE REAL RIGHT TO PROCLAIM HIMSELF A TRUE FRIEND WHO DOES NOT REGISTER AS A REPUBLICAN SO THAT HE MAY VOTE AT THE PRIMARY FOR HIS SELECTION AS THE CANDIDATE OF HIS PARTY.

This statement applies to men and women of all political distinctions and this paper has no other motive in calling attention to the condition suggested, other than to say it is the duty of every individual who claims to be the friend of Mr. Knowland to register as a Republican and on the day of the primaries, to cast a ballot in his favor.

THE ELECTION IN CALIFORNIA AND THE OTHER STATES OF THE UNION THIS FALL IS BUT A PRELIMINARY TO THE RETURN OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY TO POWER IN THE NATION IN 1916, and it is the duty of every citizen desirous of bringing about that result to aid in its accomplishment by making November's victory as emphatic there can be no mistaking the result, not only as a victory, but as a step forward in the march of progress, but for the moral effect it will have on the national struggle in 1916.

Registration for the primaries closes July 25th. THE TRIBUNE urges every man and woman in California, and in Alameda county especially, to see to it that they are registered as Republicans to the end that the party may have the greatest successes in political history, and that the most important pages in the records of the State may be given for the higher prosperity for

THE "HESITATION"

—ST. LOUIS TIMES.

Will He Break Law? Watch Him.

One Harry Borchert, liquor-seller of Alameda, seeks a renewal of his license which expires Wednesday. His application was before the council last week, and following the granting of a number of others, a motion was made to refuse him. This motion did not carry, the vote being four to four, whereupon H. J. Wise, attorney for Borchert, said he would advise his client that this vote meant a renewal, a tie vote on a negative proposition being equal to an affirmative.

Well, we will watch Borchert sell liquor without license with a great deal of interest, because if he attempts to violate the law on the advice of counsel the public will have the satisfaction of seeing him go to jail. Mr. Wise, to the contrary notwithstanding, this is just what will happen. Borchert's license expires July 1st, and until he gets another he will have no more right to sell than the crookedest blind-pigger who ever ran a joint. And it is by no means fair to presume that a clerk or other official will issue a license without an order from the council, and up to date licenses have not been issued on tie votes. So that the Alameda peace officers will doubtless arrest Borchert for every offense committed, and the public will be pleased at learning that his ample brogans, in their forward and back movements are awakening the echoes of a jail cell, a fate he merits if he dares violate the ordinances.

This is the same Borchert who runs a place on Washington street, this city. The same Borchert who appeared before the City Council and wanted to know what he should do if a woman appeared in his saloon and demanded whisky. Borchert received information at that time which caused his sensibilities to rock in such a manner it looked as if he would have to use guy ropes with which to steady himself, but if he follows the advice of his counsel in this case his fate will be far worse.

The Alameda council did right in refusing this fellow a renewal. He obtained his present permit in a manner that caused no end of trouble, almost precipitating a recall election, demonstrating that he is not wanted in Alameda by a large element of the respectable people. If he tries to sell liquor without a license he should be jailed; that is the place for men of his kind who violate law. By the same token it would be a good thing if he should be put out of business here.

Refuse the license, members of the Alameda council, and show this liquor peddler that you cannot be coerced through technicalities of law, and at the same time wipe out a plague spot.

Commencing today, Roos Bros. & Heeseman's store opens at 8:30 instead of 8 o'clock, as formerly, this action on the part of the firm being an innovation of a voluntary character made for no other reason than bettering the condition of the employees. This is the first men's furnishing house in the city to take such action, and the same is highly appreciated by those engaged in the several departments.

The assassination of the archduke and duchess of Austria by anarchists is a crime that will fill the world with horror. Governments are what their people make them and the slaughter of individuals never accomplished any good end.

It is related that the breach between Villa and Carranza is widening daily. Does this mean another revolution, and if so, which party will be the revolutionists?

If the mercury down Fresno way persists in climbing as it did Sunday it will spoil the weather joke this State has on the summer's back east.

Overland mail is piled up on the mole and everybody connected with the railroad is on the anxious seat. This morning there was promise of the biggest strike that has ever been known in California. The situation at the mole is very serious and the mole will be reached this afternoon. The railroad company has decided to force the issue, and the members of the American Railway Union will meet them. Sheriff McKillop, anticipating trouble, has sworn in forty deputy sheriffs and will arm them for battle.

PARADE PATRIOTISM

Mrs. John Arter is considered the greatest artist in drawing that London has ever known. Her friends say she devoted five solid hours every day from 1 o'clock in the morning to 1 o'clock in the afternoon—to thinking out new dress creations, and keeps a talented woman fully occupied consulting her ideas in color and design in paper. She has four wardrobe maids in addition to dressers and seamstresses, a sister of her own name is married to a dressmaker.

BOOKS AS FRIENDS

I have friends whose society is extremely agreeable to me; they are of all ages and of every country. They have distinguished themselves both in the cabinet and in the field, and obtained high honors for their knowledge of the sciences. It is easy to gain access to them, for they are always at my service, and I admit them to my company and dismiss them from it whenever I please. They are never troublesome, but immediately answer every question I ask them. Some relate to me the events of past ages, while others reveal to me the secrets of nature. Some teach me how to live. . . . Some, by their vivacity, drive away my cares and exhilarate my spirits; while others give fortitude to my mind, and teach me the important lesson how to restrain my desires. . . . They open to me, in short, the various avenues of all the arts and sciences, and upon their information I may safely rely in all emergencies. In return for all their services they only ask me to accommodate them with a convenient chamber in some corner of my humble habitation, where they may repose in peace, for these friends are more delighted by the tranquility of retirement than with the tumults of society.—Perrault.

ADAMANT Vila to Abandon Mexico City

Loss of Ammunition Causes Villa to Abandon Mexico City.

EL PASO, Texas, June 28.—The loss of ammunition has forced General Carranza to abandon Mexico City, fresh from his victory last week at Zacatecas, has returned to El Paso, bringing his entire army with him.

The relations of the northern state commander with General Carranza, in the opinion of agents here, unquestionably caused the abandonment of the campaign.

The much discussed Carranza-Villa arrangement has reached a breaking point, they asserted, in that the constitutionalist commander-in-chief has declined to allow Villa to import cartridges for his men and shells for his artillery through the port of Tampico. This port now is the only entry-way closed to them by the embargo of the United States border patrol.

At Zacatecas Villa sent away practically all the cargo of the Antilla, which landed at Tampico, according to his representatives here. Carranza men, however, declare that Villa did not get the Antilla ammunition, which they declare is still in Monterey.

MEDIATION DOUBTFUL AGAIN.

continued expressions of hope that the plans of Mexican mediation will be carried out in official quarters.

Considerable significance was attached to the fact that the mediation conference plans to meet in less than a week. There is some definite assurance from Carranza by tomorrow that his agents will meet the Huerta and representatives of the United States on plans for a provisional government outlined in the recent protocol.

Carranza later replied to the mediation asking for time to consult his generals who participated in the plans of Guadalupe before agreeing to enter the proposed peace congress, was said here not to have reached the mediators, but that it probably would get to Niagara Falls by tomorrow.

CABRERA IS EARNEST.

Luis Cabrera, one of Carranza's agents here, said today he believed the general would yield to the wishes of the United States and the invitation of the mediators after he had consulted with his associates.

DONERHEAD PLAYS HAVE BROUGHT FAME TO SOME PLAYERS

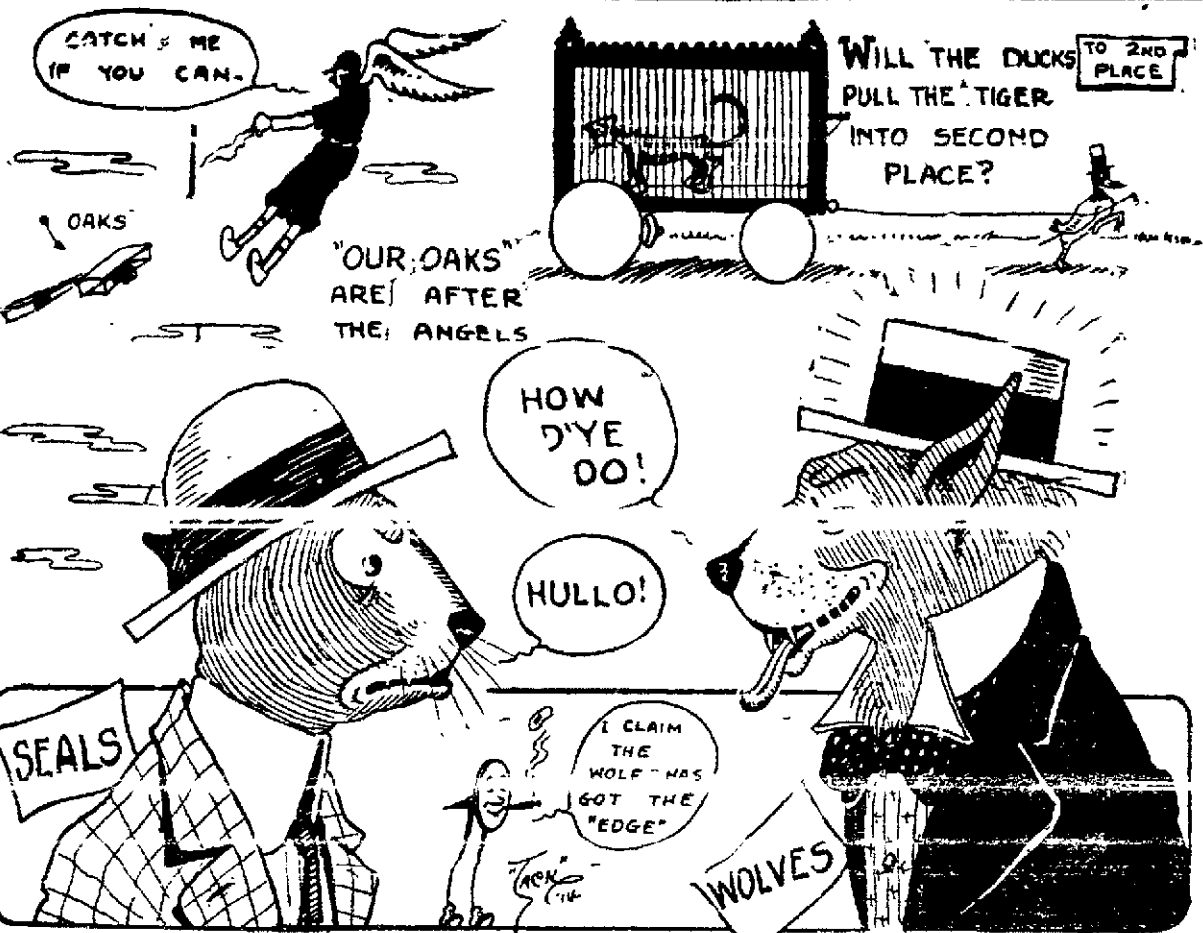

For instance, There Was John Anderson and Fred Merkle.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Some men achieve fame, but others—Fred Merkle and John Anderson, for instance—simply become famous. Merkle's name is on the pages of history. Anderson's name is on the pages of the past. Merkle's name is on the pages of the past. Anderson's name is on the pages of the past.

DIAMOND FLASHES

Schaller also contributed a spectacular catch. With three men on bases and the ball looked like a sure hit. Hap Hogan will take his Venice Tigers to Honolulu in November for a six weeks' trip that will include a month at the islands, and seven games of baseball. Hogan signed up with H. G. Lowry, sporting editor of the Honolulu Advertiser. In the terms of the contract, Hogan will take with him twelve men and in addition, a battery will be selected from one of the other Coast League teams to do the other work for the island. The manager will be H. G. Lowry, an umpire. Cal Ewing has abandoned his proposed plan of taking a team to the islands.

BUTTE, Mont., June 25.—The coming 30 days' meeting of the Butte fair and racing association, which opens in Butte July 4 promises to be the biggest meeting in the history of racing in Montana. Never before have so many owners of high class horses asked for stable reservations. H. L. Wilson, president of the association, has secured from all over the country, expressed himself as thoroughly satisfied with the class of racing material booked for the meet.

WM. JOHNSTON CAPTURES SINGLES CHAMPIONSHIP FROM FOTRELL

Wellburn and Ellis Succeed in Winning Handicap Doubles.

SAN JOSE, Cal., June 25.—William Johnston won the title of champion singles tennis player of the Pacific Coast by defeating Ella Fottrell in straight sets at the annual exhibition of the California Tennis Association. Johnston played beautiful tennis, winning five sets to Fottrell's one. The match was a real exhibition of the game, and the crowd was well pleased to see Johnston win.

TY LOBER NOW KNOWS HOW IT IS DONE

Row Brashear and Ty Lober, now of Portland, used to see each other frequently when the former was playing with the Tigers and the latter was with the Angels. At that time both teams used the same field, but had different coaches.

When the two teams were playing on the Los Angeles field it seemed as if the Venice players were able to catch almost every signal made by Dillon's men. Changing codes, switching signals, and even using several sets on the same day, were tried by the Angels, but it was always a mystery how the Tigers got next.

John Evers of the Chicago Cubs, who were the Chicago rival that day, noticed that Merkle had been to the clubhouse. He rushed to second, expecting to have the ball thrown to him, and finally managed to get home. He was not out, but when he saw that the runner had crossed the plate in safety he gave second base the go-by and hustled to the clubhouse.

Larry Papa, selected for mound man for the Beavers in the third game, just one third of an inning, and Krause took hold. Lober drove in two runs in the third inning of the morning game with a three-bagger to center.

Sacramento was aided in tying the game in the third inning by errors on the part of Gardner, Ness, and Cook. Here, a recent infant prodigy discovery in Sacramento, fell down on his hit. Evers touched second base for a force out on Merkle, but at that time was not out. He was not out, but when he saw that the runner had crossed the plate in safety he gave second base the go-by and hustled to the clubhouse.

Del Howard was caught on the old hidden ball stunt yesterday, but both the umpires were sleeping peacefully, so Del was allowed to remain on the base. Downs finally threw Klopfer out at first in a play where the ball was on the ground twice after it first touched Jerry's hand.

Ar American League team is dicker to buy the Dallas franchise, in the Texas League. Owner Gardner announced that it is Philadelphia. It is supported by the owner, George I. Thomas, who is the manager. The object of the deal is said to be an advantageous move in the war on the Federal League, which the American Club can play its youngsters in Texas.

One of his teammates finally chased Niles to the club house, where he was told that Niles had been to the clubhouse. He was not out, but when he saw that the runner had crossed the plate in safety he gave second base the go-by and hustled to the clubhouse.

The San Francisco Rowing Club has announced plans for a regatta on July 4. The regatta will be held at the San Francisco Bay, and will include a variety of events, including a handicap race, a stroke race, and a team event.

Billy Fitz Says, Says he!

Frank Leavitt's unfortunate Christian. The Oaks are due for the grand reason. The owner of the Oakland club has said right along that he will not stand for a tail-end organization. In fact, a tail-end club in a city like this is a losing proposition, and no one likes to lose money. Leavitt and Cook are some sportmen. They are not and believed that they were doing so. It is not their fault that the team is in a hole today, and it will not be their fault if the team remains there.

SHORTEN HOURS OF MANY CLERKS

Roos Brothers Announce New Policy for Bettering Conditions.

Announcement has been made by the management of Roos Brothers, successors in Oakland to C. J. Heeseman, that from now on, the big store in Washington street will not open until 8:30 o'clock of mornings. Roos brothers, the announcement points out, is the first men's employers to shorten the working days of their employees. The new schedule became effective this morning.

Henceforth the store has opened at 8 o'clock every morning. Thus the firm sacrifices half an hour daily to its employees. The statement of the management goes on to say:

It is needless to remark that considerable trade has been coming to the store between 8 and 9:30 in the morning will be lost to the house. Unless our customers are justified in supporting this movement for the bettering of working conditions.

"The change is in conformity with the policy of the management of this store to better the working conditions and shorten the hours of the people in its employ.

"The saving of this half hour per day means a shortening of three hours per week of twelve hours per month, and of one hundred fifty-six hours per year, or the practical equivalent of twenty working days per year."

An early hour this morning by Detectives McNaughton and Horton, and placed in detention at the city prison. The two detectives took them in as pickpocket suspects. When searched, they found in their possession two loaded revolvers, two handkerchiefs, with safety pins, believed to have been used for marking, and several lengths of buckskin cord. This cord is similar to that which has been used in other cases to tie up victims. Walter Martin is one of the arrested men and served three terms in prison. His companion is J. Devlin whose identity the police are trying to learn.

A Most Effective Treatment

It is simply great to use S. S. S. for the blood and get a fine, new, healthy skin, no more salt rheum, itching, scales

The trouble is in your blood and mere appeals on the surface because the skin is a natural outlet. In time the tin nerve threads in the skin lose their energy, the tissue cells break down and nature must have help. Now, the skin is but a network of tiny blood vessels, nerves and a modified form of mucous membrane in which blood impurities are prepared for elimination.

And it is only by supplying skin texture with new and purified blood that the constant outpouring of impurities is checked.

SETTLE DOWN FOR TRUST MEASURE

Senate Sees No Other Path to Adjournment: Far From Resigned.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(Continued) that there is no other path to adjournment but the one which begins with trust legislation, the Senate will settle down this week to the steady grind of work on the federal trade commission bill.

The Senate is far from resigned to the thought of six weeks or more of discussion of trust legislation to midsummer, but it is not probable that the spirit of open revolt will show itself on the floor, and unless Senate leaders are at fault in the predictions, the three House bills, or legislation designed to cover the same ground, will be put through by the familiar process, weeks of debate, fruitless effort to amend, and then passage.

President would insist in his insistence upon the anti-trust program. Congress could and would get away from Washington in two weeks or less. The House is in such shape that it could be ready to get away in a few days, and the Senate is not far behind, as far as appropriation measures are concerned. Many of these bills are still in conference, but if there was any real chance of adjournment it would not take more than a few days to get away from Washington.

SERVIANS CELEBRATE INDEPENDENCE DAY

More than 200 Servians gathered at Schuylers park in Marin county, yesterday to celebrate the five hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the battle of Kosovo, A. D. 1389.

The San Francisco and Oakland uniform rank of the Coko, the Serbian order, drilled for a silver cup, Oakland winning by two points.

At a banquet which followed the drill, Edward Rainey, secretary to Mayor Rolph, represented the city of San Francisco. Rainey, in an address, compared the Serbian struggle for independence against the Turks to the American war of the revolution, and drew parallels between the two wars.

Superior Judge George E. Crothers, Samuel Shortridge, Supervisor Ralph McLaren, C. J. Jellich and Christopher Millican, the other speakers. All congratulated the Serbian people on their advancement in civilization since the nation hurled back the Turks in the fourteenth century.

COURT OF CLAIMS TAKES SUMMER ADJOURNMENT

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The Court of Claims adjourned for the summer, after clearing the docket of all cases ready for argument. During the term, 1923 cases were disposed of. Of these 148 were dismissed on the Government's motion because of the failure to prosecute on the part of the claimants. The remaining 144 were entered on the court's calendar. The court has heard several hundred thousand pages of testimony. The most important cases decided were what are termed "advisory" cases in which there were 120 railroads claiming extra pay amounting approximately to $25,000,000 for carrying the mails since 1907.

WEST VIRGINIA 'DRY' WEDNESDAY

Tuesday, Midnight, Is the Last Hour of Sale of Liquor.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 25.—Statewide prohibition of the liquor business in West Virginia becomes effective next Tuesday midnight. It brings the total number of states in the prohibition column up to nine.

With West Virginia added, the list will be: Georgia, Kansas, Maine, Mississippi, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Tennessee and West Virginia. These nine states of total prohibition territory, plus the local no-license areas, make up 172,726 square miles, in which 15,000,000 persons, or nearly 50 per cent of the country's population live, according to the latest figures of the prohibition leaders.

The 22,000 majority with which the people of West Virginia accepted the dry proposition was relatively the largest ever given by any state. It was approximately two to one for statewide suppression of the liquor business. It was a surprise even to the prohibition forces, who were inclined largely to the determined stand which many of the large employers took in favor of their cause. The state has a population of 1,221,219 by the census of 1910.

The mandate of the legislature, embodied in the Yost bill, for the enforcement of the new law, beginning July 1, depends in many respects from the methods hitherto tried along this line. The chief feature center about the creation of a commissioner of prohibition, whose duties are to be to see that by next Tuesday midnight some 1200 liquor selling places in the state have disposed of their stocks and that thereafter all persons shall be punished by law if they keep liquor for sale.

The new office of commissioner of prohibition automatically falls to State Tax Commissioner David O. Blue of this city, who has been spending several months in preparation for strict enforcement of the new law.

MUNICIPALITY IN OHIO CONDUCTS OWN RESORT

CONNEAUT, O., June 23.—The little city of Conneaut, with only 9000 inhabitants and lying forty miles east of Cleveland, on Lake Erie, has "out-municipaled" municipal Cleveland. This quiet little port claims the distinction of being the only municipal summer resort in the country.

Every night hundreds of men and women leave the wharves and glass factories to enjoy a municipal swim at the municipal beach, to eat a municipal meal or to sleep in a municipal bed at the municipal hotel. If they wish they can dance at the municipal dance hall or ride in the municipal roller coaster and Sunday they can see a baseball game played by municipal teams. For twelve years Conneaut saw its resort, which had been purchased at a cost of $12,000, mismanaged and run down by private individuals to whom it had been leased. Last fall D. W. Brace was elected mayor and S. W. Mahaffey director of public service on a Socialist ticket. Brace had been a railroad conductor and Mahaffey a day laborer. The first thing Brace and Mahaffey did was to clean up the park so that it might become a real place of rest for the people of small towns.

Success was shown in the first warm days of June, when people had to be turned away for lack of room. Entertainment of the resort is planned for next year.

REPORT ON LEAD POISONING RATIO

The Bureau of Labor Statistics
Finds Percentage Larger Than Elsewhere.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—While many changes and improvements have occurred in the lead smelting industry in the United States in the last twenty years, much remains to be accomplished. The Bureau of Labor Statistics on "Lead Poisoning in the Smelting and Refining of Lead" Among the changes and improvements noted are better mechanical equipment in plants, better constructed buildings, greater freedom from dust and fumes and a higher degree of interest among employers in the health and safety of employees.

In the smelting plants inspected, employing about 7400 men, at least 158 cases of lead poisoning occurred in 1912. "Considering only those reported through medical sources," says the report, "this means that there were more than 20 cases for every 100 employees and the hospital records alone, which covered only nine plants, revealed a rate of almost five cases of lead poisoning per 100, a larger rate than that of Great Britain."

The report shows that in Great Britain there were in 1912 only 27 cases of lead poisoning among 2000 men engaged in lead smelting, or 1.35 per hundred. In Germany and Austria conditions were said to be less favorable, although as a result of governmental regulation, there has been marked improvement in the industry in recent years.

Union Increases Service

TWO connected telephones make the simplest form of telephone communication.

Three segregated pairs give three lines for telephone talk.

Unite the three pairs by means of a central office, and an intercommunicating exchange system is formed, giving fifteen talk tracks.

Five pairs thus connected give forty-five lines of communication, and so on, in regular mathematical rule.

Millions of such groups are thus connected in the Bell System.
